

Multifocus Properties was established to help Australians invest in their future by using property as a wealth creation tool.

We are not just another company selling investment properties. At Multifocus Properties we only hire staff who own investment properties. This means they have walked the walk and have first hand experience in property investing.

This gives us a lot more credibility when helping investors build their own property portfolio! We firmly believe in the rule: 'Never take advice about property from someone who does not own property'.

We focus primarily on knowledge and education to ensure that your property investment decisions are made with a comprehensive understanding of your strategy based on your borrowing capacity, sourcing of funds, loans available, on going costs, risks and rewards.

As everyone's financial situation is different, our approach is tailored to fit your circumstance and is based on common sense and easy to understand investment concepts.
